

WHERE THE NORTH GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS

UHB

UP HERE BUSINESS

MINING: What's next?

UHB swings into fall with a focus on the industry that built the modern North (and we don't mean government!)

ON THE COVER

Devolution: Time to Run the Numbers

The Yukon has been in control since 2003, the NWT since 2014, and Nunavut is looking at how to do it. But what is the North actually getting for having control over its resources?

Top Prospectors

From the Klondike Gold Stampede of the 19th century to the Great Diamond Rush of the 1990s, explorationists have dreamed big and launched industries. What's next?

First Nations and Equity

The next step is mine ownership for Indigenous communities—how do we get there from here?

PLUS: The lithium boom, the NWT's core library, high tech claim staking, commodity price trends, who's holding the cards in the biggest mining projects, and is the next big thing mine remediation?

AD DEADLINE: MONDAY, OCTOBER 1ST

For more information, contact

Anica Volek, Sales Rep.

T: 867.766.6713

E: anica@uphere.ca

WHO'S READING UP HERE BUSINESS

3,500

SENT TO EVERY BUSINESS MAILING ADDRESS IN YUKON, NWT, NUNAVUT AND NUNAVIK.

4,000

COPIES SENT TO SELECT SOUTHERN BUSINESSES WITH INTERESTS IN THE NORTH.

3,500

AVAILABLE IN YELLOWKNIFE AND IQALUIT AIRPORTS, AIRPORTS ACROSS CANADA, AND ON NORTHERN AIRLINES.

3,000

GO TO NORTHERN POLITICIANS, INDIGENOUS ORGANIZATIONS AND INDUSTRY INFLUENCERS.

1,000

COPIES WILL BE SENT TO THE NWT/NUNAVUT AND YUKON GEOSCIENCE FORUMS.

