TO CANADA'S TERRITORIES

2020 - Issue #2

30,000
COPIES
DISTRIBUTED

The second issue of Move Up Here will be released in early November 2020. This mini-magazine is designed to help you meet your staffing needs by reaching out to Canadians three times per year.

Twelve thousand copies of Move Up Here will be bound into issues of Up Here magazine that are delivered to subscribers and newsstands in southern Canada. Another 18,000 copies will be mail dropped to residences in select communities in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and the Maritime provinces.

The magazine presents the North (all three territories) as a great place to work, live and play, and each issue addresses one of the major questions people have about living in the North.

In this issue, we look at northern education...from preschool to university and everything in between. We also introduce people who moved North for a job and stayed a lifetime, discuss life in smaller northern communities, and provide some northern statistics, including household incomes and cost of living expenses.

If you are looking for staff now or in the future, Move Up Here is an ideal vehicle to connect you to potential employees. All advertisers also receive a complimentary, three month ad on the Move Up Here job board, which is part of the Up Here website.

Ad reservations: October 13
