TO CANADA'S TERRITORIES

2024 - Issue #1

A LOOK AT HEALTH CARE IN THE NORTH

Like the rest of Canada, the North needs more health care professionals....from doctors and nurses to physical therapists and pharmacists. What incentives can the North offer to attract these people to our territories?

From the early days of a few “nursing stations” across the North we now have hospitals, health care centres, and a fairly complete range of support services from optometrists and chiropractors to pharmacists and therapists. In this issue, we’ll introduce the range of health care services offered in our three capital cities and larger towns, to thousands of southern Canadians who just might make the decision to move up here to one of the three territories.

In addition to our health care feature, we’ll also introduce three people in the health care field, who came here for a year and are still here 10, 20 or even 30 years later.

Get your message to potential applicants in southern Canada, in geographic areas you want to reach.
