Up Here subscribers, newsstands, libraries and select mailings across the North and South for a total press run of 70,000 copies.

If you want to reach post-Covid visitors with information about your products or services, this issue of Up Here is the issue for you.

The Jan/Feb issue will lead with an article reporting on a dozen travellers who recently completed far north dream trips, who discuss what was so great about their trip and what single thing they would never do again. Another article will zero in on the joys of far north winter vacations from aurora viewing to dog mushing, from ice fishing to skijoring and more. Plus we'll look at snow and ice across the north, wardrobes for northern vacations and dining out suggestions that range from sophisticated to quirky. Plus the usual columns and departments, all adding to the travel theme.
