UP HERE MAGAZINE: MAY

A HIKING WE WILL GO

In our May issue we'll take readers to some of the best hiking trails in the North.

We'll tell the hiking stories, and we invite you to provide the service info that potential hikers will need. How to get to the great trails? What kind of gear hikers will need for these northern treks? Where to get trail conditions, trail maps and books about famous northern trails?

Advertise in our hiking special and tell readers how your company or organization can help hikers who are interested in taking the hike of a lifetime.

For detailed info on your service ask about our "sponsored content" features, where we can work with you to produce a full page article about your services.

Canada's North has some of the country's best hiking trails and in our special hiking section we'll look at everything from afternoon hikes just outside of town to epic journeys like the Chilkoot Trail in Yukon, the Pang Pass in Nunavut and the Canol Trail in the Northwest Territories.

PLUS In preparation for Canada 150, we're looking at the vision that goes into promoting the North's arts and culture in Canada's south.
